UNION BUDGET

New Delhi, July 5 (UNI)- The Maiden Budget of the Narendra Modi Government in the second tenure was presented in the Lok Sabha this morning. It was Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's first Budget and also the second fiscal proposals of a financial year by any woman Finance Minister. Indira Gandhi has been the only woman to have presented Budget for fiscal 1970-71.

The then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had taken over the Finance portfolio following resignation of Morarji Desai as the Finance Minister. Sitharaman also perhaps holds a unique experience of directly dealing three core sectors of economy and budget-making — the Commerce, the Industry and the Defence in her first term in the Union Council of Ministers under Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

In 2014, Sitharaman was inducted as Commerce Minister and later in 2017 she was elevated as Defence Minister. Understandably, the priority before the Finance Minister is to focus on growth and finding new avenues for the same as it is also high time to appreciate the challenge of slowdown in real term basis.

Before being the Finance Minister, Nirmala Sitharaman has held a wide range of jobs: She rode aboard a fighter jet as Defence Minister. As head of Trade Ministry, she grappled with falling exports. She's been a National Spokeswoman for her Party.

The ad-hoc Budget presented in February by Piyush Goyal, who held the portfolio during the illness of Arun Jaitley, was generally given away as a self-congratulatory one and an election speech for the incumbent Government.

Before presenting the budget, Nirmala Sitharaman called on President Ram Nath Kovind at the Rashtrapati Bhavan. She was joined by Minister of State for Finance Anurag Thakur. Ahead of presenting the Budget, a Union Cabinet meeting was also held.

The momentous occasion was witnessed by Finance Minister's parents Savitri and Narayanan and daughter Vangmayi Parkala who were witnessing the proceedings from the VIP gallery. Before standing up to read the Budget speech, Sitharaman folded hands towards the direction of her parents as her father quietly acknowledged the gesture.

Nirmala dumps British-era suitcase

Wraps budget documents in traditional 'bahi khaata'

New Delhi, July 5 (UNI)- Setting a new precedent, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman this morning was seen hugging the Budget documents wrapped in a red cloth, the traditional 'bahi khaata' way, instead of the leather briefcase that until now her predecessors marched out with. Chief Economic Advisor Krishnamurthy Subramanian said the famed Budget Briefcase had been replaced by the traditional 'bahi khaata' in keeping with Indian tradition. "It is in Indian tradition. It symbolises our departure from slavery of western thought. It is not a budget but a 'bahi khaata' (ledger)," Subramanian said.

Guiding the Guides

Authors of the land's scriptures that date back to an era of undetermined vintage, lyrics in the land's different languages attributed to composers of long past, biographers of eminent persons of their times, novelists, essayists, of ancient frescoes, poets, painters, sculptures, playwrights, columnists, Statesmen whose speeches have been saved for posterity and scholars commanding respect in society serve as virtual positive guides to later generations on the nuances of leading life with a sense of fulfilment, portraying their lifetime achievements in multiple pursuits focussing on doing good to all life forms including humans, plants and the speechless species — animals, birds, insects. On the other hand, narratives of innumerable episodes in the land's epics as well as events recorded by chroniclers over many centuries throwing adequate light on misdemeanours of human beings serve as negative guides to successive generations. The term Guide reminds readers of the writings of Mysuru-based author R.K. Narayan (1906-2001) about his 1958 novel by the same title describing transformation of a Tour Guide from being a protagonist to a Spiritual Guide, subsequently becoming one of the greatest holy men of the country.

We owe it to the anthropologists for scientific study of humans as well as human behaviour and societies in the past portraying the norms and values cherished by them. Grasp of their scholarly writings enables the Tour Guides to enlighten the visitors to various monuments with professional thoroughness.

Some noted tourist destinations across the country, attracting people both from its different regions and abroad in large numbers are unquestionable testimony to the perfection in the works of our ancestors in different eras. The structures in Hampi, standing in the form of ruined complexes and the Mysore Palace are in the august company of other structures in different regions of the country, attracting lakhs of visitors annually. But for the presentation by Guides with thorough knowledge of both history of the respective place and finer aspects of art in general and sculpture in particular, the visitors are sure to miss the pinnacle of the country's past glory.

The task of presenting the country's past to the visitors in a multitude of languages is an added challenge that the Guides are required to circumvent. In this backdrop, the initiative taken by the Mysore Palace Board along with the Mysore University by holding a written test for the Guides is laudable. Putting them through rigorous training would enable them to attain professional excellence in coming days.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

One great office etiquette among my colleagues is the act of throwing a treat to celebrate when something pleasant or profitable happens to one of us. The unwritten rules on the subject are sportively observed by everyone in the group. It could be when a dapper young colleague turns up looking smarter with a designer haircut. An elderly office manager found smugly seated in his swivel chair early in the morning at the start of office hours wearing a brand new shirt? That certainly calls for a celebration. I remember how I was once lovingly collared by my office mates, when I took to wearing reading glasses because of long-sightedness. And when an upwardly mobile pal gets a promotion, that needs a champagne party. With a straggling group of men and women working together at the same office under one roof, there would be a toast now and again. A display of blissful bonhomie no one would like to miss.

Criminal escapes jail by squeezing through cell bars

La Paz: A skinny petty thief, charged with burglary, managed to escape from jail by squeezing through the bars of his jail cell. Jorge Mantilla, aka "Coco", was originally arrested by police in La Paz last week, after a CCTV video showing him breaking into a residence in the Bolivian capital was posted on social media. Coco was known as "the thief of Villa Fatima" after the area he usually operated in, and was carrying a variety of tools to help him break into houses when the Police apprehended him.

He was charged with burglary and taken to a local jail to await sentencing. However, he didn't spend much time there as he managed to escape his jail cell recently by squeezing through the metal bars when the guards weren't looking.

Man dies after allegedly swallowing Gecko as a party dare

Brisbane: A 34-year-old man from Brisbane, lost his life after becoming infected with salmonella, which friends claim was the result of him eating a small gecko lizard as a party dare. David Dowell, a father of three, who would have turned 35 last week, was brought in to Brisbane's Mater Hospital, three days after some friends reportedly saw him eating a gecko at a party. He never mentioned it to his partner, Allira, and to this day no one really knows for sure if he actually ate it, but a few days after that Saturday party, he was in the hospital fighting for his life.

Doctors thought he was suffering from gastroenteritis, but in reality he had become infected with salmonella, a foodborne bacteria, that causes diarrhea, stomach cramps, fever, and, in rare cases, even death. He was known as a man who would never back down from a dare, but his partner says that apart from the friend's testimony, there is no evidence that he actually swallowed the lizard.

- Coffee: This world-famous brew can be traced back to the ancient coffee forests on the Ethiopian Plateau. An Ethiopian coffee herder named Kaldi discovered the magic beans. He noticed his goats being hyperactive and refused to sleep after eating certain berries. After trying some for himself, he too experienced the same symptoms. He reported his finding to the seer of a local monastery.*

Motor Vehicle (Amendment) Bill

Welcome move but other concurrent actions needed

Sir,

It is indeed a good news that the long-pending Motor Vehicle (Amendment) Bill has been passed by both the Houses of the Parliament to infuse greater momentum to bring down the accidents on our roads. Presently, according to statistics, road accidents in India constitute a whopping 12 % of world accidents.

Raising the fines by a quantum jump for various traffic offences is a welcome development as despite various measures including the interest taken by the Supreme Court, there was no indication of downward trend and now hopefully it will bring down the incidents of road accidents (SOM dated June 28).

Since Karnataka ranks high in the accident rate in India, it is hoped that the Bill will bring down the accidents. Statistics reveal that majority of those who die in road accidents are in the age group of 18 and 35 years and it not only adversely impacts on the nation's economy but also causes trauma to the near and dear ones. Needless to say that concurrent with stiff increase of fines there are several other issues that need to be addressed.

Some of the more important ones are: Firstly, issue of licences should follow stricter norms; secondly, the black spots on the roads where accidents occur need to be corrected; thirdly, road design itself has to be improved; fourthly, footpaths have to be provided; fifthly, there must be a streamlined system for admitting injured persons to the Hospital within the 'Golden Hour'; sixthly, public also should respond positively with the authorities and lastly, the Government must facilitate the Traffic Police on various issues to keep their morale high so as to enable them to exercise strict control in implementation of regulating transport rules and regulations so that the focus is for achieving zero tolerance on traffic offenders.

Eucalyptus tree falls on power cable; train traffic disrupted

Mandya, July 5 (Nagaiah& BCT)- Train traffic between Mysuru and Bengaluru was disrupted yesterday afternoon as a eucalyptus tree fell and damaged an overhead electric line between Maddur and Hanakere Railway Stations in Mandya. Due to this, Mysuru-bound Basava Express and Malgudi Express were delayed by a couple of hours putting passengers into inconvenience.

The incident occurred at around 12.40 pm when Basava Express suddenly stopped at Somanahalli (between Maddur and Hankere). The train had left Bengaluru at 11.15 am and an alert gate man had spotted the tree fall and the damage it had caused to overhead power cables. He immediately alerted the loco-pilot on Basava Express. Later, Railway and electric workers cleared the tree and restored the power supply and the train started its journey at 2.30 pm.

Railway officials said that while traffic in both directions between Mysuru and Bengaluru came to a standstill for a couple of hours after the incident, traffic from Mysuru towards Bengaluru was resumed on one line. Traffic along the route from Bengaluru to Mysuru resumed later but only diesel trains were able to run up to 9.30 pm as the electric line was yet to be restored.

Officials from Bengaluru Divisional Railway said that following the tree fall alert, Basava Express was stopped and a diesel locomotive was taken to the spot and the Basava Express resumed its journey after 84 minutes. Chief Public Relations Officer of South Western Railway, E. Vijaya said that because of strong winds, the tree had fallen on the overhead electric alignment at Somanahalli that feeds power to electric trains.

The Malgudi Express, which departed Bengaluru two hours behind schedule, also had to face the same situation. When the train was nearing Mandya, another overhead power cable snapped near Hanakere at 4.11 pm. Here too, officials summoned a diesel engine from Mysuru and ensured the train's departure. However, the train was delayed by one hour.

Electric trains along the route which were detained and suffered delays were Mysuru-Bagalkot Express, Bengaluru-Mysuru Malgudi Express, Bengaluru-Chamarajanagar Express and Chamundi Express. As the power disconnects automatically once the cable snaps, no untoward incident was reported. However, a child travelling in the Basava Express fell ill and was shifted to the Hospital in a private vehicle.

Later in the evening, a problem was detected in the locomotive of Rajya Rani Express that left Mysuru at 2.30 pm. The train came to halt soon after leaving Nayandahalli at 4.57 pm. Due to this, Kacheguda Express, Golgumbaz Express and Mayiladuturai Express had to be detained for some time.

Cracks develop on crucial Madikeri-Mangaluru Highway

Madikeri, July 5 (PS&BCT)- Monsoon has picked up in Kodagu and as an indication to heavy rains that has been lashing the district since the last couple of days, the Madikeri-Mangaluru Highway has seen cracks — a sad reflection of the quality of road repair works that was carried out last year following heavy rains and landslides.

Last year, officials had claimed that after repairs, the Highway could withstand rains for at least three years. Sadly, the road has developed cracks only a few months after it was repaired.

The Madikeri-Mangaluru Highway connects Mysuru and Mangaluru and after Charmadi Ghats, this is the only road that connects Mysuru, Bengaluru with the coastal city of Mangaluru. This is the very road that supplies essential commodities including petrol, diesel, LPG and milk to Kodagu from the coast.

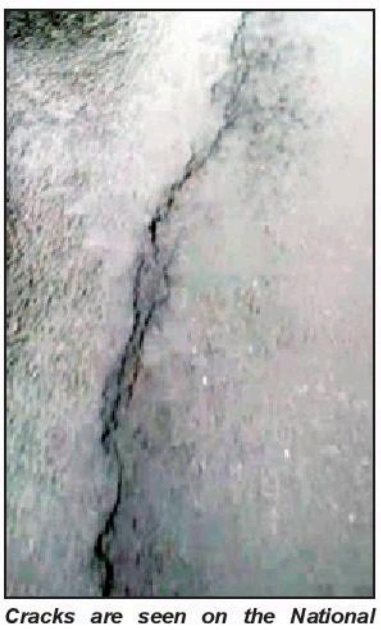
The cracks were observed on the National Highway-275 between Thalathmane and Katakeri. Locals said that the road was repaired only a few months ago and in all likelihood, the road will collapse on the sides if it rains heavily.

Madikeri Rural Police have erected barricades and boards have been put up warning the motorists of the impending danger.

The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) Office in Mangaluru has been informed and a team of officials is expected to inspect the damaged portions today.

The District Administration will take a decision based on the feedback given by NHAI and engineers.

Much ahead of the beginning of monsoon, the District Administration had banned the plying of trucks that weigh more than 16 tonnes on this road as a precautionary measure.



Cracks are seen on the National Highway 275 between Madikeri and Mangaluru that was repaired only months ago. Picture right shows sand bags that are placed on the side of the National Highway near Katakeri village to prevent the road from sliding. Local residents say that there is continuous water-logging next to the sand bags and this makes the ground loose. This is a major cause for the road to develop cracks.

Local villagers have alleged that instead of taking up full-fledged road works after last year's landslides on this crucial road, the officials took up temporary works like placing sand bags on the side of the road so that the road does not collapse. This shoddy work has resulted in the road developing cracks in just a few months, they alleged.

Locals feel the soil under the Highway has loosened due to gushing in of rain water from either sides of the slope. The absence of side drains on either side too has led to the development of cracks on the road.

It may be recalled here that buses and heavy vehicles had been barred from plying on this stretch in Kodagu last year after the road developed cracks. Cars and two-wheelers had been allowed on one portion of the road.

First Ashada Friday: Thousands of devotees have hassle-free darshan at Hill Temple

Mysuru, July 5 (MTY&DM)- Amidst a light drizzle, thousands of devotees from city and elsewhere thronged the Chamundeshwari temple atop Chamundi Hill right from the wee hours of today, to have darshan of the deity on the First Ashada Friday. The rituals began as early as 3.30 am with Mahanyasa Abhisheka, Rudrabhisheka, Panchamruthabhisheka, Pushparchane and other rituals conducted by Temple Chief Priest Dr. N. Shashisekhar Dikshit, Priest Devi Prasad and other priests.

After the completion of the special rituals, in which scion of the erstwhile Mysore Royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar took part, the doors of the temple were opened for the devotees at about 5.30 am, by which time, there were serpentine zig-zag queues, with devotees waiting patiently for their turn to have a darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari on this auspicious day.

District Minister G.T. Devegowda, actor Darshan, MLA S.A. Ramdas were among the many personalities who offered puja at the temple.

The steps leading to the Hill Temple too was crowded today, as thousands of devotees, especially women, children and youths, mostly college students, opted to have darshan of the deity by climbing the Hill steps.

A large posse of Policemen were deployed along the steps to ensure safety and security of the devotees. Also, many sweepers were seen regularly cleaning the steps of vermilion and other articles at several points.

Private vehicles banned

All private vehicles were banned atop the Hill today. The devotees had to take KSRTC buses that were operated for free from the makeshift bus stand at Lalitha Mahal Helipad at the foothills. The KSRTC has deployed 25 buses to ferry the devotees to the Hill. The temple and the sanctum sanctorum of the temple was specially decorated with variety of flowers.

Special darshan

Barricades were erected around the temple to regulate the free flow of devotees. Apart from dharma darshana, there were special entry tickets priced at Rs. 300 and Rs. 500 (inclusive of Abhisheka).

Prasada distribution at Dasoha Bhavan

Prasada was distributed to the devotees at Dasoha Bhavan for which too, there was a long queue. The Prasada included rice bath, kesari bath, curd rice and ladoo. The distribution of prasada was allowed only after a check by health authorities.

Even as the distribution was going on, public announcements were made asking the devotees not to waste food and to throw the paper plates only in the dustbins placed all around the Dasoha Bhavan.

Police were seen making frequent announcements asking devotees to be beware of chain-snatchers and pick-pockets. With thousands of devotees descending on the Hill Temple, the District Administration had stationed ambulances and fire engines atop the Hill to meet any emergencies.

Namma Mysuru Foundation had installed a number of dustbins atop the Hill.

Police had made elaborate security arrangements at the Hill and at the foothill near Lalitha Mahal Helipad, where devotees were required to take KSRTC buses to the Hill Temple.

The District Administration had made adequate parking facilities near the helipad, where 2,000 two-wheelers and nearly 1,000 four-wheelers and vans could be parked.

The temple will be open till 10.30 pm tonight. The next Ashada Fridays are on July 12, 19 and 26.

Slipper trouble...

Even as the temple authorities made regular announcements asking the devotees to leave their footwear at the designated stand, a large number of devotees were seen leaving their footwear in front of the Dasoha Bhavan and near the footsteps atop the Hill, resulting in footwear piling up at these two points.

Of Smart Drones & Dumb Leaders !

Yesterday morning when I saw my newspaper headline I almost choked on my own laughter. Although we are told that it is a good thing to start your day laughing since we can never say how the rest of the day may turn out, it was no laughing matter that I was reading about.

It appears our very smart and tech-savvy Government that has somehow not been smart enough to figure out how it should survive its own coalition predicament, is now considering the use of air-borne drone cameras to assess the condition of our rural roads. This it will naturally do only at great cost because all smart innovations today necessarily come only at a price that should seem to do full justice to their smartness. Since our Government itself lacks the technology for undertaking this study and since this is the era of outsourcing things at astronomically inflated costs, ostensibly to bring down costs, this job too will be outsourced to an external private agency. It looks like some very smart Alec, standing strategically close to the Vidhana Soudha with the right connections, has decided to make hay while the sun shines and the Government lasts, which may not be very long! And, someone in the corridors of power too has certainly been tempted to taste the ambrosia offered by this proposal.

I am bold enough to say this because I have seen what has happened to the much-hyped smart traffic monitoring system that was implemented at great cost across our towns and cities a few years ago which worked only for a few months. We were told that this replica of how the rest of the developed world ensures safety on its roads would replicate the same safe situation on our roads too. But when we look at it now we find that the whole system has collapsed and traffic offenders are thumbing their noses at it and our Government too in every one of the cities where it was introduced.

Very sadly, no one is questioning the Government about why it went in for this technology and then allowed it to go waste when it could have helped us if only it had been managed efficiently. But even if someone is responsible enough to question it today I'm sure our Government will come up with the ready answer that it was a decision taken by the previous Government! We routinely hear this refrain these days and this is the most convenient answer that most Governments now have for all inconvenient questions.

Let alone the smart traffic management system, our Government has not been able to keep most of our traffic lights functioning which it acquired recently at great cost and whose maintenance it has outsourced to private agencies. We are told by reliable sources that they have all stopped working simply because the Government has not been paying the bills regularly to the agents. Smart things are good only for smart and responsive Governments and technology works only if Governments work too. That is why millions of Indians who work abroad meekly transform into law-abiding citizens and follow traffic rules while working in countries other than our own. They know very well that the message of the hefty fine for their slightest peccadillo on the road will reach them before they reach home!

In some countries the penalty amount is even deducted from their bank accounts instantly even before they realise that they have committed an offence! If they think that they have not erred, they can only appeal against it much later. And, that is only if they have the evidence and the guts too! Once they come back home these very same law-abiding people think nothing of over-speeding, overtaking, changing lanes, honking or parking as they like, simply because our system and our mindsets fall short of international standards.

In our country, despite having smart tags we find vehicles queuing up endlessly at our toll booths simply because the technology that supports this smartness is not maintained in a working condition. Even the sound and light show at Hampi, our famed world heritage tagged site has not been functioning over many years because our Tourism Department has not been paying its electricity bills promptly. Sadly, this reason is being proclaimed loudly over the years by the locals to all the tourists, both domestic and foreign who visit the place. Can anything be more shameful than this?

Why do we need prohibitively expensive, smart technology to do ordinary things that can be managed with simple common sense? Instead of employing drones can we not heed to the complaints of bad roads that are brought in by our villagers and pay prompt attention to them at the local level? Can we not depute two people in each taluk to drive across the roads on a moped or motorbike and make notes of the road conditions and report them to the district headquarters?

We are certainly not surveying roads in a war-zone where we need the help of drones to ensure safety of lives of our road engineers and other staff. Widespread announcements that citizens can simply send their complaints, supported by pictorial evidence on WhatsApp and the reassurance that they will be attended to promptly should do a great job of solving people's problems. Ever since such a service was started by SOM it has been hugely popular with readers and has been successful in eliciting corrective action by our civic authorities and Traffic Cops too.

When this has been working at our local level there is certainly no reason why it should not work across the length and breadth of our State too. Citizens should ask our Government to first come up with a white paper, without any black spots of falsehood, of course, about how much it has spent on introducing the smart traffic management system and outsourced traffic lights across the State along with a report by independent monitoring agencies about their present state of health and how much good they are doing us. Our Government should be prevailed upon to do this before it ventures to burn its hands and more importantly our money in its latest misadventure !

Hindustani Classical Music

Pt. Ravindra Gururaj Katoti Pandit Ravikiran Manipal

Mysuru, July 5- Gayana Sabha, Mysuru, has organised Hindustani Music Concerts on Saturday (July 6) at Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha, starting at 5.30 pm. Pt. Ravindra Gururaj Katoti will perform solo on the Harmonium and Pandit Ravikiran Manipal will present vocal recital. They will be accompanied on the tabla by Bhimashankar Bidanur.

Profile

Born in a family of music-lovers in 1969, Pt. Pandit Ravindra Gururaj Katoti started learning Hindustani Classical Harmonium at the age of eight. Since then he has been the disciple of Harmonium Legend Pandit Rambhau Bijapure. Pt. Ravindra's Harmonium solo playing is marked by presentation in gayakianga along with elaborate exploration of the theme in lucid alap, brilliant layakari and clear tanakari. Achieving volume control by manipulating bellows is prominently noticeable in his rendition. He is equally proficient in rendering khayal, thumri, dhun, and natyageet.

He is the first Hindustani harmonium player to be awarded 'A' grade by Music Audition Board of All India Radio. His experiments of combining Harmonium with other instruments such as Western Accordion, Flute, Sarangi, Sitar, Violin, Hawaiian Guitar have been appreciated.

Pandit Ravikiran Manipal

An 'A' graded artiste of All India Radio, Pt. Ravikiran got initiated into classical music by his uncle Gururaj Marpally. He came under the tutelage of late Pt. G. Madhav Bhat and later underwent advanced training under late Pt. Narayana Panditji. By contemporising and elevating the values and aesthetics to higher level of sublimity and artistry under his Guru Narayan Panditji's guidance, Pt.Ravikiran could groom his own Gayaki that has won the hearts. He has secured 'Vidwat' degree from Karnataka Secondary Education Board and 'Sangeet Alankara' from Akhila Bharata Gandharva Mahamandal, Miraj.

HFGC organises special lecture on team-building

Mysuru, July 5- Hindustan First Grade College (HFGC) had organised a special lecture on "Team-Building and Motivation" at its premises recently.

Kishore Rachaiah, Founder and Proprietor of Kreatement Events, who was the resource person, in his address said that team-building brings people together by encouraging collaboration and teamwork. One of the most powerful reasons for team-building is to get results.

The programme stressed the key benefit of a properly planned team-building activity which improves the communication between people. The team-building activity ideas help to facilitate long-term team building through fostering genuine connections, deeper discussions and processing.

Guest speaker Kishore Rachaiah, Principal Dr. C. J. Priya, Special Officer Abel Mathew Prasad, a parent and alumni inaugurated the programme by lighting the lamp. Computer Science Assistant Professor R.D. Sukshma welcomed. Department of Commerce and Management Assistant Professor Nayan Hashmi proposed a vote of thanks. English Department Assistant Professor S. Nagasri compered, according to a press release.

'Cold chain market must for preserving milk, fruits, vegetables'

Mysuru, July 5- Despite India being the world's largest producer of milk and second largest producer of fruits and vegetables, about 40 to 50 per cent of the total production ends up wasted, said CFTRI retired Deputy Director T.R. Prabhu.

He was delivering a lecture on 'Low Temperature Preservation of Fruits and Vegetables,' organised by the Institution of Engineers (India), Mysuru Local Centre, in association with Indian Society of Heating Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning (ISHRAE) as part of World Refrigeration Day, at its premises on JLB Road here recently.

India has about 6,300 cold storage facilities with a capacity of 30.11 million metric tons, which are only able to store about 11 per cent of the country's total perishable produce. In Karnataka, we have only 98 cold storage facilities with a storage capacity of 2.97 lakh ton. The cold chain market has grown steadily in the last few years and this trend is projected to continue until 2020, he said.

While there are many positive changes in Indian cold chain market, high operating cost is a major roadblock for sector's overall growth. Shortage of adequate infrastructure, lack of trained personnel, outdated technology and inconsistent power supply are other major obstacles in the growth of cold chain infrastructure in India, he pointed out.

Foods are stored at low temperatures to prevent the growth of micro-organisms, activity of enzymes and freezing prevents the growth of most food-borne micro-organisms and refrigeration temperatures slow down the growth of micro-organisms. Refrigeration below 5 degrees Centigrade effectively retards the growth of many food-borne pathogens, he said.

The cooling rate is important in controlling the growth of micro-organisms. A slow cooling of food allows time to microbial growth. This can occur in a large volume of hot or warm food in a big container. Refrigerated foods have limited shelf life due to microbial growth. In frozen foods, micro-organisms will not grow, but there will be survivors after long storage, said Prabhu, who was feted on the occasion.

IEI Chairman Dr. R. Suresh, Hon. Secretary D.K. Dinesh Kumar, ISHRAE President T.A. Prabhakara, ISHRAE Member A. Ramesh and others were present, according to a press release from IEI Hon. Secretary.

Graduation Ceremony at MYRA School of Business

Mysuru, July 5- The Graduation Ceremony of 5th batch of Post-Graduate Diploma in Management (PGDM) and 6th batch of Post Graduate Programme for Executives (PGPX) of MYRA School of Business was held on June 29, at its premises in Yelwal.

A batch of 32 students along with their family members attended the ceremony. The cohort which is a diverse group from more than eight States of the country and a gender ratio of 1:4 have found placements in top banking, IT, consulting and reality firms in the country.

Chief guest M.D. Ranganath, Additional Independent Director, HDFC Bank, in his Graduation Day address shared the ten guiding principles which he observed and adopted in his illustrious career. His mantra was — believe in yourself, resilience, open minded, move out of comfort zone, no short cuts to success, career is a marathon and not a sprint, live in the present, money is not everything, usage of digital technology and have fun.

Kantharaj Urs, Managing Trustee, Mysore Royal Academy, addressing the students said, "At MYRA, you learnt the core values of life, which is integrity, excellence, efficiency and engagement. I would urge you to practice this with humility and stay disciplined. This would certainly make you a Myracle for life and help you contribute to the society."

MYRAcles Rohit Bhattacharjee, Arvind Sastry and Sindhu Priya made it to the Dean's list and Rohit Bhattacharjee being the topper made it to the honour board, according to a press release from MYRA.

In her speech, Nirmala unveiled an elaborate plan for investment driven growth and announced a new payment platform for the MSMEs to give it the vital confidence.

Sitharaman, an alumnus of the capital's prestigious Jawaharlal Nehru University, read out an Urdu couplet and referred to a quote by Chanakya, the ancient India's philosopher and economist, which led to thumping of desks. She said by the year 2022, the Government will ensure electricity and cooking gas for all but hastened to add except for those who are not willing to take the connections.

Sitharaman emphasised that poor and farmers will continue to get focused attention by the Government. In the packed House, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Ministers Rajnath Singh, Amit Shah and Nitin Gadkari were seated in the front row. In the opposition benches, UPA chairperson Sonia Gandhi, son Rahul and Dr. Farooq Abdullah of National Conference were present.

The Finance Minister said the Government will make India further attractive for foreign investment and sectors like aviation, media and insurance sectors would be opened amid repeated thumping of desks by treasury bench members. Thanking voters for bringing back the Modi Government to power for a second term, Sitharaman said, "The recent election was charged with brimming home and desire for a bright and stable 'New India'. Voter turnout was highest; every section came to stamp their approval for performing Government".

Budget a key step towards New India, says PM Modi

New Delhi, July 5- Prime Minister Narendra Modi praised Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's maiden Budget and said it was a key step towards 'New India'.

PM Modi said the Budget will act as a roadmap to transform the agriculture sector of India. He further added that the budget is one of hope and will boost country's development in the 21st century.

While delivering the budget speech in Parliament on Friday, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said that the Indian economy has added one trillion dollar in the last five years due to the various initiatives and reforms undertaken by the Government, and is poised to grow to be a 3 trillion dollar economy in the current year.

"One of hope" and it is a budget that will boost India's development in the 21st Century, the PM said. The Budget, he said, will strengthen enterprises, increase participation of women in the country, simplify the tax system and modernise infrastructure.

The Budget — the first of the Modi 2.0 Government — is also seen as the Government's first step to realise the Prime Minister's goal of doubling the economy to 5 trillion dollars within the next five years.

When Indira Gandhi took a jibe at smokers in Budget speech

New Delhi July 5 (UNI)- The 1970-71 Union Budget was presented by Prime Minister Indira Gandhi who was also the Finance Minister during that time for a year.

Indira Gandhi

Among a host of announcements, Gandhi also "touched" the "smoker's pocket".

In her speech, she apologised for altering the prices for cigarettes. "I am sorry that the smoker's pocket has to be touched once again. The duty on cigarettes is being enhanced with the increase ranging from 3 per cent to 22 per cent 'ad valorem' depending on the value slabs. The cheaper varieties of cigarettes will go up by only one or two paise per packet of 10 cigarettes," she announced.

Gandhi then proceeded to poke fun at the smokers and said, "Assuming that the smoking community remains steadfast in its devotion, the additional revenue from this measure will be Rs.13.50 crore."

The former Finance Minister had also increased the scope of 'ad valorem' duty levied on prepared and preserved foods to vegetable juices, synthetic syrups and sherbets, dehydrated peas, malted foods, instant coffee, instant tea, jelly crystals, custard and ice cream powders, biscuits, cocoa powder, drinking chocolate, pasteurised butter, processed cheese, branded aerated water, glucose and dextrose.

She continued to make fun in good humour and said, "I hope the honourable members will not accuse me of having preferences of my own. Even under my proposals, aerated waters, biscuits, butter and cheese will be taxed only when manufactured with the aid of power and there will be total exemption from tax for baby foods and branded 'desi' ghee. These proposals will yield additional revenue of Rs. 8.68 crore."

Dr. Manmohan Singh had delivered longest-ever Budget speech

Often criticised for not speaking much, Singh spoke 18,177 words in 1991

New Delhi, July 5 (UNI)- Nirmala Sitharaman is the second woman to present Union Budget. Indira Gandhi was the first. But Indira Gandhi was the Prime Minister who held the finance portfolio with her. Nirmala Sitharaman is different in that sense. She presents the Union Budget solely as Union Minister for Finance. Jawaharlal Nehru and Rajiv Gandhi were the only other Prime Ministers who presented Union Budget.

Manmohan Singh

Sitharaman's first budget is similar to the first Budget of Independent India. In 1947, two budgets were presented. First budget was presented in March. It was for United India that included today's Pakistan as well as Bangladesh. But partition happened in August making the March Budget inoperative even though expenditures were authorised.

The Jawaharlal Nehru government felt that a new budget was required as this could be a wish of the newly independent people. R.K. Shanmukham Cherry, the first Finance Minister of Independent India, was tasked to present New India's Budget for the period of 15 August 1947 to 31 March 1948. Cherry could, however, present his Budget on 26 November 1947. Sitharaman also presents Budget for practically a truncated period of the fiscal.

Black money and reforms

By the time the euphoria of Independence subsided, corruption and black money had become the order of Indian economy. The economic progress that was expected under Independent Indian government was not there for the people. This called for a reformative action.

Against this backdrop, T.T. Krishnamachari presented Budget for 1964-65, the last of Nehru government. It was the first distinct effort in a Budget to dig out black money.

Between 1964 and 1966, Krishnamachari introduced what is called the first Voluntary Disclosure Income Scheme (VDIS).

Next such scheme came in 1997 when P. Chidambaram presented his "Dream Budget". Chidambaram promised to waive off penalty and granted immunity from any action for disclosing black money. The disclosed money was, however, not to get any interest on it.

For bigger reforms, Manmohan Singh - as Finance Minister - 1991 Budget was the watershed moment. He threw open Indian economy held tightly under the garb of socialism. LPG - liberalisation, privatisation and globalisation - set India on fast trajectory of economic progress.

Sitharaman is expected to do both - unearth more black money and bring in lateral economic reforms. Direct tax reforms could be around the corner with indirect taxes having been largely taken care of by the goods and services tax GST) that was rolled out in July 2017. Disinvestment is another aspect to look out for in Sitharaman's first budget presentation.

Long and short

In pre-GST times, Union Budget used to be one of the marquee events to be held in Parliament. Now, the budget speeches have somewhat lost their sheen. Arun Jaitley holds the record for second, third and fourth longest budget speeches in terms of word count - in 2014, 2017 and 2016 respectively. In terms of words, Dr. Manmohan Singh - often criticised for not speaking much - delivered the longest ever budget speech in 1991 - 18,177 words.

Another Finance Minister from the BJP, Jaswant Singh holds the record for the longest duration of budget speech. He spoke for 2 hours 13 minutes to present Union Budget 2003-04. For record, H.M. Patel spoke only 800 words when he presented budget in 1977. That was an interim budget though.

Other trivia

Till 1998, Union Budget was presented at 5 pm keeping in tune with pre-Independence tradition when the annual finance statement was read out to suit timings of political masters sitting in London. This changed in 1999, when Yashwant Sinha presented Atal Bihari Vajpayee government's budget at 11 am. Sitharaman is following the trend.

Another break came in 2017, when the Narendra Modi government changed the date of budget presentation from February 28 to February 1.

Arun Jaitley was the first Finance Minister to do so. Piyush Goyal was the next who presented interim budget earlier this year.

Budget 2019-20 is Sitharaman's first and she might end up presenting four more - that will be half of the maximum number of budgets presented by an Indian Finance Minister. Morarji Desai presented it 10 times followed by P Chidambaram at nine. And finally, two Finance Ministers have become the President of India – R. Venkataraman and Pranab Mukherjee.

Nirmala alludes to Lord Basaveshwara in Budget speech

New Delhi, July 5- While presenting the Union Budget 2019, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman referred to Lord Basaveshwara and his teachings a couple of times during the speech. The Union Minister invoked Basavanna's principles and said, "Our government recognises and follows the teachings of Lord Basaveshwara who preached Kayakave Kailasa. Lord Basaveshwara was 12th-century social reformer and thinker who first established the concept of Kalyana Rajya or Welfare State. His thoughts ushered in a new revolution in the Indian society, sowing the seeds of modern concepts of Sarvodaya (universal upliftment) and 'total revolution'. He argued for a position and status of all citizens irrespective of class, caste, creed and sex.

Nirmala

Basaveshwara was born in 1131 AD in a Brahmin family at Bagewadi, currently in Karnataka's Vijayapura. His parents were Madiraja and Madalambike. At a young age, Basaveshwara sought to achieve spiritual bliss and transform himself, denouncing the sacred janeu (janivaara) thread. Basaveshwara, worked closely with King Bijjala in Kalyana, later becoming the Prime Minister of Bijjala. After observing the socio-economic problems, he led the Vachana (poetry) movement, focusing on the welfare of all and revolting against the social malpractices. He also raised his voice against the gap between rich and poor, untouchability and discrimination against. Basaveshwara also gave the famous twin socio-economic principles of Kayaka and Dasoha. Kayaka refers to removal of all economic, social and religious inequalities while Dasoha refers to equal opportunity. He said that an individual should be able to take up a job of his choice without discrimination in professions.

Earlier this month, PM Modi also referred to Lord Basaveshwara in a tweet: "Paying homage to the venerable Bhagawan Basaveshwara on his Jayanti. An iconic thinker and pioneering social reformer, Bhagawan Basaveshwara worked throughout his life to make our society more inclusive. His emphasis on education and serving the poor continues to motivate millions," he wrote.

"Sitharaman believes that leather made products are not auspicious for the big occasion, so she avoided the leather bag and took the bahi khaata. This is considered to be auspicious. The Finance Minister has worked in the UK and she knows the tradition of our country. We must appreciate her decision," he added.

Earlier, Nirmala Sitharaman, India's first full-time Finance Minister ditched another tradition. During the customary 'Halwa Ceremony' before the Budget Session, she untied the red ribbon instead of cutting it, officials said she believed cutting a ribbon is not considered auspicious.

Nirmala Sitharaman's red folder caused a buzz amid anticipation surrounding her first Budget, also the first of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's second term. Especially as the word "Budget" originates from the French "bougette" or leather bag. Down the years, finance ministers have carried red, black, tan and brown briefcases.

The "budget case" tradition started in the 18th century, when the Chancellor of the Exchequer or Britain's budget chief was asked to 'open the budget' while presenting his annual statement. In 1860, the then British Budget chief William E. Gladstone, carried his papers in a red suitcase with the Queen's monogram in gold. He went on to become the Prime Minister. The same bag was used by several governments.

India's first budget was presented by R.K. Shanmukham Chetty in 1947, months after independence. Ten years later, T.T. Krishnamachari carried something that looked like a file bag. Jawaharlal Nehru carried a black briefcase. Earlier this year, then Finance Minister Piyush Goyal had carried a red briefcase before presenting the Interim Budget. Finance Minister Arun Jaitley before him carried a tan briefcase.

Former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh, as the Finance Minister who delivered the iconic 1991 proposals, carried a black bag. Pranab Mukherjee, as Manmohan Singh's Finance Minister, used a red briefcase similar to the Gladstone case of Britain. It was velvet, according to reports.

Prestigious CCRT Fellowship for city Bharatanatyam dancer

Mysuru, July 5- City Danseuse Radhika Nandakumar has been awarded the prestigious Fellowship by the Indian Government's Centre for Cultural Resources and Training (CCRT) for 2019-2021 for being an outstanding artiste.

This Fellowship is awarded to only 200 artistes across India and includes all art fields like dance, music, sculpture, literature, photography, video-graphics, etc. She has been awarded the 'Senior Fellowship' as she is above 40 years of age and artistes below 40 come under 'Junior Fellowship' category.

In the junior category, Shilpa Nanjappa is the sole recipient (dance) from Karnataka while Radhika Nandakumar is the sole recipient in the senior category. Vocalist T.N. Ashwini from Mysuru has also won the CCRT Fellowship in the field of Karnatak vocal under junior category.

The CCRT is one of the premier institutions working in the field of linking education with culture and it functions as an autonomous organisation under the aegis of Ministry of Culture, Government of India.

As a core function, CCRT is committed to holistic education, encompassing the cognitive, emotional and spiritual development of children. It also implements some other important policies of the Ministry of Culture like awarding scholarships to young artistes, junior and senior Fellowships focusing on in-depth study and research in various facets of culture including new emerging areas of cultural studies.

Radhika Nandakumar is one of the contemporary pioneers of the famed 'Mysore School of Bharatanatyam', which can be best described as a body of human expressions that endeavour to attain aesthetic divinity within the disciplines of spatial and melodic configurations.

A gifted danseuse with distinct individuality, Radhika has developed numerous innovative forms of dance expressions from contemporary life. Her art focuses in setting up a dynamic equilibrium between textual traditions and Gurukula traditions in dancing.

She has added a new dimension to contemporary Bharatanatyam by borrowing from the past, for the present and future. Her restorations are authentic, meaningful, and colourful. Radhika was inspired, initiated into dance by her mother Kalakovide Usha Padmanabhiah (foremost disciple of Natyacharya V.S. Koushik, Founder of Sanatana Kalakshetra, Bengaluru).

Among the umpteen choreography of the original, authentic restorations from the textual sources, Radhika Nandakumar has choreographed some of the most outstanding dance features like Narada Koravanji of Sri Vadiraja Yateendra (perhaps the very first Koravanji ballet in South India) and Navagraha Nritya (based on the concept of the nine planets).

Radhika has reconstructed the 'Gaundali Dance Form of Karnataka'. She had received the CCRT Junior Fellowship to pursue this work and she has dedicated much of her art life these days to bring this art form in all its authenticity to contemporary art stage.

Now with the CCRT Senior Fellowship for 'Karnataka Natana Sampradaya', Radhika wants to pursue a holistic approach that would reveal a sizable magnitude of 'Karnataka Narthana Sampradaya Paddathi' whose various dance forms are clearly enunciated in 'Shastra' and 'Shilpa'.

"An important need of our present day is restoration of creative innovation without sacrificing the historical continuity and traditional values of our art. This is the original contribution and intention of this research," she says.

"Bharatanatyam fraternity in Karnataka is yet to receive its due recognition and research support. Hence, some art forms and traditions have not seen their proper light. I would like to pursue Shastra and Prayoga together that gives a comprehensive continuity to our arts with value-based research," she explains.

Her future research will take into account cultural anthropology, aesthetics, musicological research and reconstruction, Vakyartha pedagogy in Sanskrit Ghoshtis, Manuscriptology to refer to original manuscripts, western models for Purva Paksha arguments, available textual treatises with special reference to Karnataka and its culture and references in Kannada literature that describes dance. Her research will enable to find new method of looking into our dance traditions; identify the Guru lineage and their contributions to Natya field. She will identify and choreograph new items of dance and find traditional values in them.

Kodagu dancer to pursue research in Kodava language

Mysuru, July 5- Shilpa Nanjappa, an acclaimed Bharatanatyam dancer from Kodagu, has also been awarded the prestigious Fellowship by the Indian Government's Centre for Cultural Resources and Training (CCRT) for 2019-2021 for being an outstanding artiste.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, an elated Shilpa said that the two-year Fellowship meant a lot for her and she has chosen to do extensive research on 'Adaptation of Kodava compositions (existing and new) into the classical music format and Bharatanatyam'.

"In simple words, my topic means popularising Kodava language through classical music format and Bharatanatyam. There are many compositions in Kodava language in both prose and poetry formats written by Dr. I.M. Muthanna, Haradasa Appacha Kavi, Nadikerianda Chinnappa, Boverianda Nanjamma and Chinnappa and other writers. Also, there are many poetic compositions in spoken Kodava language and Kodava songs. My aim is to popularise such compositions by extensive research and documentation," Shilpa says. "My topic aims to popularise Kodava language by propelling it to people who don't normally hear it and also to create a renewed enthusiasm among the current generation to speak Kodava Thakk (Kodava language). I am happy to do a Fellowship in this unexplored area of work and I want to do full justice to my homeland and its culture," she explains.

The documentation of the Fellowship project will be a valuable resource for anyone who does future research on Kodava language and will interest those who want to learn the language and explore its origin and development.

"I have been brought up with great regard and respect for Kodava language and culture which has inspired and motivated me to serve Kodagu and its people. This Fellowship is a timely encouragement to carry on the work that I was already doing for Kodava language," Shilpa adds.

Daughter of Allaranda Kamy and Uthappa, she is married to Mukkatira Pavan Nanjappa and lives in Madikeri with her family including a five-year-old daughter and a year-old son. Her guru is late Padmini Ramachandran.

Mother-daughter burnt alive as hut catches fire

Rajamma Geetha

Chamarajanagar, July 5 (SS&KS) - A mother and her daughter were burnt alive when their hut caught fire at Mallanaguli village in Talawadi taluk in Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border yesterday morning.

The deceased are Rajamma (40) and her daughter Geetha (19).

Rajamma's husband had died about 10 years back and she was living with her son and daughter in the hut. It is learnt that her son had migrated to Kerala about a month back and hence Rajamma was living with her daughter.

Yesterday at about 9 am, the hut caught fire and as the hut was small, the flames spread soon and the two unable to come out were burnt alive. The post-mortem of the two bodies could not be conducted as the bodies were reduced to ashes.

Talawadi Police, who visited the spot, conducted preliminary investigation and have registered a case. It is yet to be ascertained as to how the hut caught fire and why Rajamma and Geetha did not run out of the hut as soon as the fire broke out.

State gets 1,000 more medical seats

Bengaluru, July 5 (KMS&DM)- In a bid to overcome shortage of specialist doctors, the Union Government has sanctioned 1,000 more MBBS seats for Government Medical Colleges in the State.

The seats will be up for grabs from this academic years itself. The additional seats will be a boon for rural students as they stand a better chance to study medicine.

There are 18 Government Medical Colleges in the State and each college will get over 50 additional seats. Following the Union Government's largesse, the State Government is all set to regularise the services of Medical faculty serving on contract basis.

Following the Union Government's sanction of 1,000 more MBBS seats, the total number of seats in the State has risen to 5,000 from 4,000. The Union Government's sanction of 1,000 additional seats, is based on a MCI report, expressing satisfaction about the infrastructure in Government Medical Colleges.

Man held for stealing bag with ATM cards and withdrawing cash

D. Ravi

Mysuru, July 5 (KS) - Ashokapuram Police have arrested a man on charges of stealing a vanity bag of a woman with ATM cards in it and withdrawing cash from various ATMs.

The arrested is 48-year-old D. Ravi alias Credit Card Ravi, a resident of Rajkumar Road in Yaraganahalli in city.

The accused had stolen the bag containing cash, three ATM cards, one Credit Card, a book containing the PIN numbers of the cards and other cards belonging to a woman, who had come to Veene Sheshanna Bhavan in Kuvempunagar for a music programme.

The woman had lodged a complaint at Ashokapuram Police Station in this regard.

Based on the complaint, the Police, who had registered a case, took up the investigation and based on the CCTV footages, took the accused into custody on July 3.

During interrogation, the accused is said to have confessed of committing the crime on Apr. 20 and based on the information provided by the accused, the Police have recovered Rs. 20,900 cash from him.

DCP M. Muthuraj and K.R. Sub-Division ACP N.M. Dharmappa, supervised Ashokapuram Inspector P.M. Siddaraju, ASI Hiranaiah and staff Mahadevaiah, Anand, Raghavendra, Girish and Jagadish in the nabbing and recovery operation.

Federation demands permission to start English medium classes

Mysuru, July 5(PM&DM) - The Mysuru Division Aided and Unaided SC/ST Educational Institutions Federation has urged the government to grant permission for starting English medium classes from first standard in schools run by SC/ST communities.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Federation President Shantaraju demanded the Government to relax rules for permitting English medium classes in aided/unaided schools belonging to SC/ST communities.

He further wanted the government to extend the facilities accorded to minorities institutions to SC/ST Educational Institutions as well. Federation Hon. President H. Subbaiah, office-bearers D. Gopal, M. Savakaiah and C.G. Shivakumar were present at the press meet.

Irregularities in Constables recruitment: Samithi to wage legal battle

Mysuru, July 5 (PM&DM)- Alleging that irregularities had taken place in the written test for recruitment of Civil Police Constables in 2014-15, Brashtachara Nirmoolana Samithi has called up on all affected candidates to join hands with it for getting justice.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Samithi Convenor Rajesh Gadi said that 1,824 candidates had appeared for the written test that took place at Maharaja's College. But, a woman candidate was shown favour by allowing her to write the test alone in another room, he alleged.

Stating that he had lodged a complaint with the then City Police Commissioner and the ADGP (Recruitment and Training) in this regard on Mar. 31, 2015, Rajesh Gadi maintained that his complaint was not looked into by the Police. As such, he moved the Karnataka High Court on Oct. 28, 2018. The Court after hearing his plea, permitted for proceeding the case and in this backdrop, he has made an appeal for all affected candidates to join hands with the Samithi to get justice, he said and added that he can be contacted on Mob: 99723-39292.

Tiger-Leopard menace at villages bordering Bandipur Forest

Gundlupet, July 5 (SOMG&KS)- Villagers of Hundipura, Triyambhakapura, Kaggala and surrounding villages bordering Bandipur Tiger Reserve are living in a sense of fear and have also lost a few of their livestock to tigers and leopards.

A tiger has killed a cow belonging to Kariaiah of Hundipura village which was tied in the cow shed. Though the Forest Department had place a cage to trap the tiger, the tiger has not fallen into the trap causing fear among the villagers.

This apart, a leopard has attacked a cow belonging to Satish at Triyambhakapura and has injured it severely near its thigh and a tiger was sighted at the agricultural field of Nagendrappa at Kaggala village, following which Buffer Zone Forest Officer Rajesh conducted a combing operation to trap the tiger but in vain.

The officer has assured of placing a cage to trap the tiger if it is sighted again.

Unidentified woman found dead

Mysuru, July 5 (KS)-The Mysuru Railway Police have found a body of a woman at City Railway Station.

The unidentified woman is aged about 75 years and the Railway Police have shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary.

The kith and kin of the deceased, if any, may contact Mysuru Railway Police Station on Ph: 0821-2516579, according to a press release.

District Minister distributes taxis to beneficiaries

94 Airavata scheme beneficiaries receive taxis in first phase

District Minister G.T. Devegowda and other dignitaries are seen distributing taxis under the State Government's Airavata scheme to 94 beneficiaries at J.K. Grounds in city this morning.

Mysuru, July 5 (RK&KS) - In a bid to create self-employment opportunities and boost livelihood options for young men and women of SC/ST communities, District Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) distributed taxis under the State Government's Airavata scheme to 94 beneficiaries at a function organised at J.K. Grounds here this morning.

A total of 200 beneficiaries were selected by Dr. B.R.Ambedkar Development Corporation Limited, Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Limited, Karnataka Adijambava Development Corporation, Karnataka Bhovi Development Corporation Limited and Karnataka Taanda Development Corporation, out of which 94 beneficiaries were distributed taxis in the first phase.

GTD handed over the keys of the taxis to the beneficiaries and flagged off the taxis. Speaking on the occasion, GTD asked the beneficiaries to make use of the scheme aimed at making them self-employed and asked them to commence their work from today.

Taxi beneficiaries Siddharamaiah and Mahesh, who spoke on the occasion, said that they were unemployed and they came to know about the State Government's Airavata Scheme and applied online.

They further said that after two months, they were called for an interview by the officials of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Development Corporation and were selected.

In this scheme, the beneficiaries can choose Maruti Swift Dezire, Hyundai Xcent Prime, Honda Amaze or Toyota Etios, priced between Rs. 6 lakh and Rs. 8 lakh for which the State Government gives a subsidy of Rs. 5 lakh and the balance has to be paid by the beneficiary in easy instalments to the bank which has provided the loan.

The State Government has tied up with cab aggregators and the selected beneficiaries from the SC/ST community will be trained and provided entrepreneurial access.

MLAs L. Nagendra, Ashwin Kumar and B. Harshavardhan, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Development Corporation Deputy General Manager Srinivas and others were present.

HC orders notice to GTD over delay in polls to Traders' Association

Bengaluru/Mysuru, July 5- The High Court on Thursday ordered that emergent notice be issued to Higher Education and Mysuru District Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) in a case related to delay in election to the officer-bearers of the Mysore and Chamarajanagar District Co-operative Wholesale Traders' Association.

Hearing a writ petition by S. Chandrashekhar and N. Manjunath of Mysuru, both members of the association, a single-Judge Bench of Justice S.N. Satyanarayana ordered notice to seven respondents, including the Minister.

The petitioners submitted that the elections were delayed because Harish G.T. Devegowda, son of the Minister, has become ineligible to contest or vote in the polls to the district association.

The Hunsur Taluk Agricultural Produce Cooperative Marketing Association, which is represented by Harish, cannot contest in the polls as it has failed to meet turnover targets as per the by-law.

"Though the term of the office bearers elected in 2014 is over, G.T. Devegowda is trying to delay the polls till the Hunsur Association becomes eligible to contest the polls," the petitioners said.

Meanwhile, reacting to this, GTD told SOM that he had not received any notice from the High Court.

"I came to know about it only after reading newspapers. I am not responsible for the delay in holding the election and the delay has been caused due the preparation of voters' list and not because of me and my son," the Minister clarified.

ICC World Cup 2019

West Indies end on winning note, beat Afghanistan by 23 runs

Headingley, July 5- Former champion West Indies ended their campaign in this edition of the World Cup 2019, with a winning note by registering a 23-run win over a fighting Afghanistan team at Headingley yesterday.

Inspiring performances with the willow by West Indies batsman Shai Hope (77), Evin Lewis (58), Pooran (58) and skipper J.Holder (45) combined with good bowling by Carlos Brathwaite (four for 63) and Kemar Roach (three for 37) enabled West Indies to outsmart the stiff challenge put up by Afghanistan.

West Indies post good total

West Indies won the toss and electing to bat lost Chris Gayle (7) early (one for 21), but fellow opener Evin Lewis (58,78b,6x4, 2x6) and Shai Hope 77 (92b,6x-4,2x6) added 88-runs for the second wicket and consolidated the innings. Hetmyer (39,31b,3x4, 2x6) and Hope added 65-runs for the third wicket and boosted the total. After the departure of Hetmyer and Shai Hope quickly, West Indies were reduced to 192 for four in 37.4 overs.

Pooran 58 (43b,6x4,1x6) and skipper Jason Holder 45 (34b,1x4,4x6) further added 105-runs for the fifth wicket. The tail could not contribute much and West Indies ended up scoring 311 for six in 50 overs. Dawlat Zadran (two for 73) impressed for Afghanistan.

Fighting reply by Afghanistan

Afghanistan gave a good fight by batting well and almost matched the West Indies and came closer to the target. After the loss of opener Gulbadin Naib (5) early (5 for one), Afghanistan were well served by Rahmat Shah 62 (78b,10x4) and wicket-keeper batsman Ikram Ali Khil 86 (93b,8x4) who added 133-runs for the second wicket. This partnership rekindled the hopes of the Afghanistan team.

Rahmat Shah departed but a 51-run third wicket partnership between Ikram and Najibullah 31 (38b,1x4,1x6) further added value to the run chase. After the fall of Najibullah at 194 for four in 35.5 overs, Afghanistan lost Nabi (2), Shinwari (6), Rashid Khan (9) and Dawlat Zardan (1) quickly. Asghar Afgan (40,32b,4x-4,1x6) and Sayed Shirzad (25, 17b,2x4,2x6) used the long handle with purpose but could not take Afghanistan home.

Afghanistan ended up scoring 288 in 50 overs and fell short of the target by 23-runs.

Shai Hope was chosen as the Player of the Match. Both the teams West Indies and Afghanistan bowed out of this edition of the World Cup.

BRIEF SCORES

West Indies: 311 for six in 50 overs (E. Lewis 58, Shai Hope 77, Hetmyer 39, Pooran 58, Holder 45, Dawlat Zardan two for 73) bt Afghanistan 288 in 50 overs (Rahmat Shah 62, Ikram Ali Khil 86, Najibullah 31, Asghar Afgan 40, Shirzad 25, Carlos Brathwaite four for 63, Kemar Roach three for 37). Player of the Match: Shai Hope.

WORD OF THE DAY

Lenitive

Pronunciation: LEN-uh-tiv.
Meaning: Alleviating pain or harshness: soothing.
Origin: Lenitive first appears in English in the 15th century. It derives from the Latin verb lenire ("to soften or soothe"), which was itself formed from the adjective lenis, meaning "soft" or "mild." Lenire also gave us the adjective lenient, which usually means "tolerant" or "indulgent" today but in its original sense carried the meaning of "relieving pain or stress." Often found in medical contexts, lenitive can also be a noun referring to a treatment (such as a salve) with soothing or healing properties.
Example: "The air in Eastbourne ... is melancholy with the sweet memories of childhood, and the promises it breathes are prayerful and lenitive: all shall be well, and all shall be well, and all manner of things shall be well." — Howard Jacobson, The Independent (London), 2 Aug. 2008.

THE ODD WORD

Lekgotla

An enclosure or public space where community assemblies take place.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

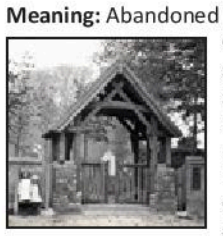
Meaning: Abandoned in a difficult position without help.



Origin: This has nothing to do with lurches in the sense of sudden unsteady movements. There are suggestions that lurch is a noun that originated from lich - the Old English word for corpse. Lych-gates are roofed churchyard entrances that adjoin many old English churches and are the appointed place for coffins to be left when waiting for the clergyman to arrive to conduct a funeral service. To be 'left in the lych/lurch' was to be in dire straits indeed.
Another theory goes that jilted brides would be 'left in the lych' when the errant bridegroom failed to appear for a wedding. Both theories are plausible but there's no evidence to support either and, despite the superficial appeal of those explanations, 'lych' and 'lurch' aren't related.
In fact, the phrase originates from the French board game of lourche or lurch, which was similar to backgammon and was last played in the 17th century (the rules having now been lost). Players suffered a lurch if they were left in a hopeless position from which they couldn't win the game. The card game of cribbage, or crib, also has a 'lurch' position which players may be left in if they don't progress half way round the peg board before the winner finishes.

QUOTE BOX

The only thing worse than being abandoned is knowing that you're not even worth an explanation. — Unknown
